CITY SHOE STORE

CHARLES FREDRICKSON, Prop.

TURKEYS COMING TO MARKET.

Krause & Son shipped some turkeys and geese to Chicago Thursday, and they made a strong Thanksgiving reminder for those who saw these fine fat fowls as they were being packed at the butcher shop for their journey to the city. Prices this year are from 10 to 12 cents and the supply at those prices generous indeed. The market price here last year was 14 cents but this figure is a little too high for the pocket book of the plebeian American and the falling of the price is an opportune event and the seller cannot complain even of this year's market figures. —New London Press.

It would seem pretty good to pay only 14 cents in this vicinity.

A Significant Prayer.

"May the Lord help you make Bucklen's Arnica Salve known to all," writes J. G. Senkins, of Chapel Hill, N. C. It quickly took the pain out of a felon for me and cured it in a wonderfully short time." Best on earth for sores, burns and wounds. 25c. at Reardon's drug store.

A GREAT GAME.

Wall Street Pirates "Save the Country" and Feather their Own Nests

In an article on the "Wall Street Rampage" two weeks ago I said: "The public will not be told right away how much valuable stock the big interests bagged as a result of this Wall Street hurricane." I was slightly mistaken—the public was told sooner than I thought it would be.

During the past week a New York dispatch to one of the Chicago dailies said: "J. P. Morgan has gathered in another great steel company and will turn it over to the United States Steel Corporation. If President Roosevelt doesn't put a veto on the merger."

The steel company to which this announcement referred is the Tennessee Coal & Iron Company. It has been a manufacturer of open hearth steel. It was a rival of the big United States Steel Corporation. Two months ago it is said to have received all the orders placed by the Harriman roads for rails needed by them for the years 1907 and 1908. By reason of such facts as these the high financiers back of and in and under the big steel corporation wanted to get control of the Tennessee property and they wanted it badly. But it was in the hands of a pool which had secured about 75 per cent. of the stock, and the pool was not disposed to let this stock go, not without a big price for it.

Therefore, some plan must be devised for shaking the limb on which this tempting Tennessee fruit hung. It was devised! Much of the stock was in New York banks and trust companies as security for loans made by the pool or its members. Certain banks began to discriminate against this stock, refusing to loan more than 50 per cent. on its value or to take it at all. Pressure was also brought to bear on trust companies which held it. This was bad for the "eight or ten rich men" who held this Tennessee stock. They were getting squeezed.

Then there was an all-day meeting on a Saturday with "the captains of industry." The public was told that this meeting was due to concern over the financial crisis and to devise a way out. An all-night meeting followed, for the "captains of industry" are very industrious; there are no eight-hour days when big game is in sight.

And again the public thought that the big financiers were sitting up with a sick country. But they were not—they were doing what has frequently been done before at night, they were after some parties who had the goods that they wanted. The parties were stubborn and it is said to have taken an ultimatum to bring them around. But when day broke and "the sun walked over your high eastern hills" the "captains of industry" walked out with the goods. They had $20,000,000 of the Tennessee Iron & Coal Company, so the New York dispatches read.

It was a great game. The Cubs could not have beaten it. Of course it made the flurry in Wall Street worse, but "captains of industry" are not in Wall St. for their health. And inasmuch as they had played the game so finely that the public regarded them as friends of the republic, to use the language of Cicero, what difference did it make?

But this was not all of the game. Mr. Frick and Mr. Gary were hurried down to Washington to see the President and to tell him that any further interference with the big corporations and their peculiar methods would be awful for the business of the country. And here again the public was asked to believe that the mission to Washington was one of pure patriotism. For what other could the head of the great steel octopus and H. C. Frick, of Pittsburgh notoriety, have in going to Washington, especially before the dew was off the transaction by which they took over the Tennessee rival?

Later on it will probably develop that some troublesome rivals or other interests in the copper business were eliminated by the Wall Street flurry. In the meantime something else has happened in New York. A syndicate, of which Mr. Morgan and Mr. James Stillman, president of the National City bank, are the principals, has been sold $20,000,000 of New York city bonds, in a solid block, and given the option on $20,000,000 more for next January. These bonds bear the high rate of 6 per cent. interest. And it is asserted—I take my information from the financial columns of that authority so infallible in many quarters, the New York Tribune—that the syndicate will be able to market these bonds in London and Paris at "substantial premiums," and then bring the gold received for them to New York and get another premium on it as ready money. But where did the syndicate get the money to buy these bonds when New York was so short of cash that the banks could not cash up depositors? The reply to this question is strange enough. It is that the city left a large part of the purchase money in the hands of the syndicate. Just

DON'T REDUCE WAGES

As Senator Halton Sees It.

Ex-Senator Halton, who has been a lumber operator all his life writes as follows on the labor question of the present:

"It is unfortunate that many employers are taking advantage of the present financial disturbance, and are reducing, or attempting to reduce wages. Wage earners are the last to get the benefit of any advance in general conditions, and they should not be the first to submit to reduction. 'I hope individuals and labor organizations will use all honorable means in their power to resist any such tendency or movement.'

"The question of production has practically been solved; that is, enough is produced to provide liberally for every one, but the question of fair division and distribution remains to be solved. 'We hope some practicable profit sharing plan applicable to all lines may be evolved and adopted. This will be a step in the right direction toward a more equitable division.'

"As the employer, as a rule, does not divide and share with the employee any unusual gains, he should not ask the employee to bear the unusual losses.

"The employee has a moral and equitable interest in the accumulated profits and surplus, after allowing reasonable returns for capital, and such accumulations should be held in trust to bridge over times of depression and cover unusual losses.

"It may truthfully be said that the wage earner now has more of the comforts and luxuries of life than at any time in the past, but consideration must be given to the fact that advancing civilization demands more of the laboring man each year in the care of his family, and to the farther fact that great advance has been made in invention and organization, resulting in greatly increased effectiveness and productivity of the worker. Shall not the real producer have an increased share in the general prosperity of the world?

"Some say the wage earner has been improvident, which may be true in some cases, but have not some of the employers been extravagant and improvident also?

"It would be an interesting experiment for some employers to undertake to support a family on the wages of the ordinary workman. There would certainly be no automobiles or vacations at the seashore. Use the surplus, cut off some of the luxuries of the employer, sell the automobile, before you reduce wages."

BASKET BALL.

The Co. L team of basket ball went over to Cranston and played a game that resulted disastrously to our boys—the score being 17 to 34 in favor of Cranston. Frank Zettler and Clarence Wesley accompanied the team over. The defeat, bad railroad connections and lack of sleep made the boys feel anything but pleased over the trip.

SKOVGAARD CONCERT.

The Skovgaard Concert under the auspices of the Citizens' Entertainment Course, given at the Opera House Monday evening, was a concert of unusual merit and was an event long to be remembered by those attending it. On account of train connections, the company was delayed at Prentice and was not able to reach this city so as to begin their entertainment before nine o'clock but the audience was fully repaid for their tiresome wait by the first number played by Skovgaard. It was a magnificent demonstration of his power over the rare old Stradivarius upon which he played. The different numbers he rendered only gave his hearers more evidence of his versatility as a musician—all were equally pleasing. It was a rare treat to the attentive listeners, one seldom realized in cities of this size. Miss Davidson showed unusual ability as accompanist and her solos were enthusiastically received. Miss Olson's vocal numbers gave variety to the program and showed wide range of training. The promoters of the Entertainment Course are to be congratulated upon the excellence of their first entertainment.

OBERAMMERGAU.

The Oberammergau Passion Play will be produced at the Opera House one week commencing Monday night, by special arrangement, the new management having secured the films at an expense of over $300.

The beautiful natural coloring shows in the production which will occupy one and one-half hours time for each showing.

The management will give two complete portrayals of the play, one at 7:30 and the other at 9:00 in order that all may witness the production.

No other attraction of this character and scope has ever been seen here. The films shown heretofore being decidedly inferior to the new and modern series.

Tickets of admission have been placed at 10 and 15 cents, a price all can afford.

DEATHS.

Little John Smilke, age three and one-half years, North Side, died Tuesday morning of diphtheria. He seemed to be feeling poorly since Sunday; when a physician was summoned it was too late and death soon came. He was the infant son of Mrs. Edward Smilke, whose husband shot himself a few weeks ago.

F. A. Hildebrand was called to Monroe Saturday to take charge of the remains of Mrs. Weenink, the woman who in a fit of despondency shot herself last week Monday and on Thursday was found dead by neighbors. She was to have been married to an Antigo man soon. Father Johnson conducted the funeral services.

FOOT BALL.

The foot ball game at Madison last Saturday ranks the Wisconsin team with Chicago and places them ahead of the Gophers. While the result was a tie, all who saw the contest report that Wisconsin outplayed Minnesota at every stage of the game.

Had it not been for Capron the famous Minnesota punter, Minnesota would have a sad story to tell. Wisconsin which appeared weak at the early part of the season, ended with a fine climax Saturday.

Yale which defeated Harvard Saturday claims the world's championship.

BOOST NORTHERN WISCONSIN.

Northern Wisconsin offers in the way of cheap land, fertile soil, equable climate, accessible markets, unsurpassed R. R. facilities with fuel at hand, yet in spite of the fact, land seekers have been passing us by and locating in the bleak and inhospitable prairies of the northwest. This heavy flow of immigration to the new prairies is explained by the following facts:

1st. Those prairie regions have in the past few years been favored with unusually moist seasons, resulting in good crops of wheat and flax.

2d. Well supplied boards of immigration have widely and thoroughly advertised the real and imaginary resources and advantages of the prairies through circulars, magazines and newspapers and through special agents sent through the thickly settled and populated sections, until Dakota, Alberta and Saskatchewan have become household words throughout the eastern states and Europe. The history of those sections shows that favorable seasons are abnormal. That wet and dry seasons alternate, and that dry seasons and small crops are the rule. Recent years have brought unusually heavy rain fall, but indications are that the tide has turned; this year's rain fall was less and crops lighter. This along with the fuel scarcity of last winter has brought a realization of the disadvantages of the prairie sections and immigration to that section has very much diminished. These facts make this a particularly opportune time to put before the prospective immigrant knowledge of the resources and advantages of Northern Wisconsin.

The legislature, this year, made a start by the establishment of the state board of immigration. This board is now thoroughly organized and is doing effective work. The appropriation made for its maintenance however, is too small, $7,000 per year, in comparison with the $20,000 per year allowed the North Dakota board of immigration and several times that amount used by the Canadian provinces. The appropriation by our own board is ridiculous, yet in spite of the handicap of limited funds, the board of immigration has already done much work and actual results are appearing. C. K. Ellingson, a prominent lumberman and close observer, has recently traveled extensively in southern Wisconsin and reports that he finds results of the work of the board and the car Grassland on every hand. People of that section are rapidly coming to a realization of the wonderful resources of the northern counties of this state instead of Alberta and Saskatchewan prairies and are talking now of Northern Wisconsin. The board of immigration has already issued a great variety and a large amount of literature in English, Norwegian and German and much more is in press or in preparation.

Chapter 458 Laws of 1905, provides that the county boards may appropriate sums not to exceed $1,000 per year to assist in promoting immigration, such money to be expended by an association whose purpose is, the promotion of immigration, such as we already have organized here in Oneida county and if all of the northern counties make these appropriations and work in conjunction with the state board of immigration which gives the matter circulated a better standing than it does coming from smaller organizations, individuals or land companies, much good and more far reaching results can be accomplished and it will prove the most profitable investment that the counties can make.

It is hardly necessary to call attention to the benefits which will result from increased settlement and development of our northern counties and Oneida county in particular. It will benefit all classes of the community in the cities as well as in the country, the merchant will profit by increased sales of all commodities and can expand his business as the community develops, and it is not too much to say the farmer will benefit most of all classes; more farmers mean more cows, which will make creameries and cheese factories profitable; a greater production of stock make better markets and higher prices; more neighbors mean better roads, better schools and more agreeable conditions of social life. The taxpayer profits from development of more taxable property through decreased taxes as the taxable property increases as is proved by the comparison of our tax rates with those of thickly settled sections the latter being much lower.

The movement to organize the Northern Wisconsin counties for the purpose of cooperating with the state board of immigration has met with hearty enthusiasm and County development associations in nearly all northern counties have been organized with the view of securing appropriations from their respective counties and assisting in the work of promoting immigration. At a meeting of representatives of these county associations held at Hayward Nov. 7, a federation known as The North

WALSH ATTORNEYS
CONTEST EVIDENCE
LAWYERS OBJECT TO THE ADMISSION OF "MEMORANDUM" NOTES AS EVIDENCE.
TESTIMONY ADMITTED AFTER VERBAL STORM

Former Assistant Cashier Identifies Note and Furnishes Evidence Not Mentioned in Indictments Against the Defendant.

Chicago, Nov. 23.—The story of the making of "memorandum" notes which figure prominently in the trial of John R. Walsh for the alleged misappropriation of funds of the defunct Chicago National bank, of which he was president, was interrupted Friday by a legal contest over the admission of one of the notes as evidence.

The note over which the struggle between the attorneys for Walsh and those for the prosecution came, was one which purported to have been signed by G. W. Clarkson on February 27, 1904. F. W. McLean, who was assistant cashier of the bank at the time of suspension, identified this note as one of a number which he had prepared at the orders of Mr. Walsh and had had discounted at the bank.

Attorney John S. Miller, for Walsh, objected to the admission of the note on the ground that it was not specifically mentioned in any of the counts of the indictment against the defendant. It was argued by the government that this was not necessary, as it could be introduced under count No. 16 of the indictment, which was of a general nature, alleging that the defendant paid over to the Illinois Southern railway money to which it was not entitled.

Point Raised by Miller. The arguments of the attorney on this point brought this statement from Attorney Miller:

"This count would be susceptible of proof if it was alleged any one went boldly into the bank and obtained from the bank officers money to which he had no right."

"Do you mean by that openly?" asked Judge Anderson.

"Openly or secretly?"

"But supposing by a previous arrangement of a system of fictitious credits made with the bank officers he obtained the money, would not the count stand?"

"I do not believe so."

The argument continued, various legal questions being raised, while the witness waited for the decision of the judge before resuming.

Notes Not in Evidence. Judge Anderson, before deciding the question of admitting the note as evidence asked if it was in the bank at the time of suspension. Mr. McLean was asked if it was.

"Yes," he replied.

Judge Anderson then ruled in favor of the admission of the note of Clarkson as evidence and it was read to the jury by Assistant District Attorney Childs. The note bore the inscription "Memo note."

Motion to Strike Out. Immediately after the reading of the note a short recess was taken to allow argument upon another legal point made by the defense, that of striking out of evidence the part of a report, November 9, 1905, made by John R. Walsh to the Chicago Clearing House association, which was introduced as testimony that stated that it was subscribed and sworn to by John R. Walsh.

The motion to strike this part of the evidence out was sustained by the court.

Continues on "Memorandums." "Did you have any conversation with anybody regarding a note of E. A. Burrill?" asked Assistant District Attorney Robert W. Childs, when he resumed his questioning of Mr. McLean Friday.

"Yes. With Mr. Walsh," answered the witness. "He told me to prepare a memorandum note for $32,000 in the name of E. A. Burrill on February 27, 1904, and to make it out on that date and make it due June 1, 1904."

The same testimony was given by the witness in regard to notes for $32,000 each, to which the names of G. W. Clarkson, C. C. Collins, A. N. East, F. L. Lewis, E. S. Little and G. E. Parada were attached.

STORM BULL IS AT REST

Impressive Ceremonies Characterize the Funeral of Wisconsin's Great Educator, Scientist and Public Benefactor.

Madison.—The funeral of Prof. Storm Bull was held at Madison last Wednesday. Short services were held at the home, 141 West Grand street, at 1:30. Rev. F. A. Gilmore offering a short prayer. The body was then taken to the Unitarian church, where the Monona ladies' quartette sang "Lead Kindly Light" and "It Singeth Low in Every Heart."

Mr. Gilmore, who had been Prof. Bull's pastor for years, and who was therefore intimately associated with him in church work, delivered the address. He spoke in part as follows:

"Death loves a shining mark. Once more is the old saying fulfilled. A man of great vigor both of body and of mind has passed away."

"Never shall we forget that erect and powerful figure, the strong featured face, with its firm lines, crowned with hair of iron gray, like the Vikings, his ancestors, of old. The state, recognizing his ability, employed him in his capacity of engineer, not only in the new buildings of the university, but also to help build the new capitol, and in other important enterprises of the commonwealth. As a teacher he provoked and stimulated the capacities of his pupils. Young men understood that he would not carry them, but would aid them to walk upon their own feet. His fellow townsmen, recognizing his merits as a citizen, chose him to be mayor of the city. This post he filled with dignity and honor."

The Madison Skat club, of which the deceased was a member, was represented at the funeral by many prominent members.

Many of the aldermen and the city officials met at the city hall at 1:30 and marched to the church in a body. All work in the university was stopped during the afternoon, and teachers who had been associated with Prof. Bull attended the services.

The Little Unitarian church proved all too small to hold the great crowd that gathered to do honor to the well liked teacher.

OKLAHOMA: THE FORTY-SIXTH STATE

OKLAHOMA, "The Land of Now," (embracing Oklahoma and Indian Territories), entered the union as a state on November 16 with a population of about 1,500,000. The government census (four districts missing) shows a population of 1,408,000. In addition to the persons residing in the four missing districts, a number of Indians not reached by the census takers are believed to have been omitted from the government census total.

The Indian is passing out of the life of Oklahoma into its history. But he is still as much in evidence in Oklahoma as the negro is in a number of northern states. Records believed to be ultra-conservative show that the new state of Oklahoma contains 72,000 Indians. Only about 10,000 of these, however, are more than three-quarter blood. The wild Indians of Oklahoma exist only in history. The redman of the present is adjusting himself to the white man's civilization.

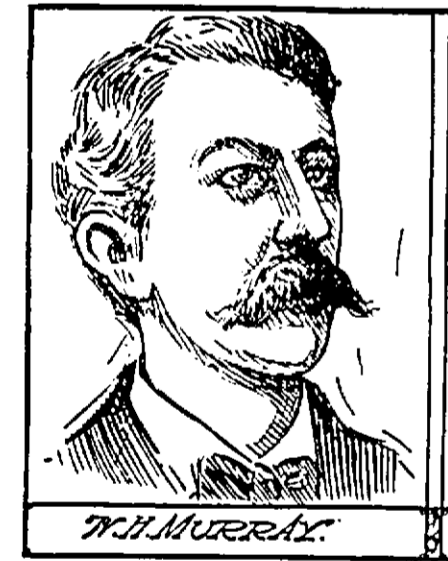

"Oklahoma" is a Comanche Indian word, signifying "The Land of the Fair God." Surely the fair god could not select a more comfortable place for a home. For instance, everything good to eat which that distinguished personage might desire is obtainable from Oklahoma soil. Upon a single Oklahoma farm can be seen growing simultaneously the products that grow in all the states from Maine to California. Corn and cotton thrive side-by-side.

Amazing Natural Resources.
Within its borders Oklahoma is known to have vast stretches of coal lands; natural gas, also, is abundant, while the state's resources in salt, asphalt, oil, granite and marble, building stone, zinc, lead, copper, gold and timber, place it among the most desirable sections of the country for investors.

Eighteen years ago this great new state was a cattle range and Indian hunting ground.

The first rush into Oklahoma was on Monday, April 22, 1889. On the morning of that day Oklahoma City, the present metropolis of the state, then known as Oklahoma Station, consisted of half a dozen small buildings, the Santa Fe station, section house, United States quartermaster's house, stage office, and a small building used as a hotel. Between noon and sunset of that day Oklahoma Station became a town of 5,000 people. Within a month, 1,169 buildings, many of them ugly, temporary affairs, were erected.

And so Oklahoma City has continued to grow until it now claims a population of 45,000, modern schools educating 9,484 children this year, an aggregate of 7,375 last year; buildings (including ten-story skyscrapers) aggregating in value $15,000,000; banks having an aggregate capital and surplus of $1,050,834, and deposits aggregating $6,549,000; post office receipts in 1906 aggregating $11,609, and freight tonnage into and out of Oklahoma City in 1906, 1,225,216,000 tons.

Factories are springing up. Oklahoma City this year has 2,347 factory employees, a gain of 531 over last year; and 1,176 jobbing house employees, a gain of 230 for the year.

ABOUT THE REAL ARAB HORSE.

He is Virtually a Pony, But a Remarkably Sturdy One.

The Arab horse is virtually a pony, standing 14.2 hands, often under than over. He is not fast, even at the gallop; indeed, he is slow. He is a very poor trotter, both as regards speed and action, a bad hack, and cannot walk without continually striking his toes in the ground. He is totally unfitted for harness and is uncomfortable to ride except at the gallop; this is his natural gait, and in it his movement is free, smooth, delightful and easy. As regards his general make-up and formation, he is perfect and his constitution and physical soundness is wonderful. He has great bone substance, vigor, resolution, strength, staying power, courage, boldness, the soundest legs and feet and extraordinary lung power, which is due to the atmospheric conditions and free life to which he has been used from time immemorial; extraordinary eyesight, good temper, mild manners, tractability, instinct and sagacity, and for his size is a wonderful weight carrier.

It is this extraordinary constitution and anatomical perfection and this magnificent courage, nerve and mettle of the Arab steed which have made the thoroughbred of today what he is, and not his speed, which has only existed in songs.

The Arab attaches far greater importance to bottom and sobriety than he does to what might be called "artistic beauty." Of such a horse he will say: "Let us not be in a hurry. Let us see him work. He might be only a cow with a lion's hide on his back." When you consider what their idea of bottom is, it may be sufficient to know that it means a horse should be able to travel with a man on his back, a change of clothing, food for rider and horse, his gun, flag, etc., from 60 to 90 miles a day for four or five days in succession, and after a couple of days' rest be able to repeat the task, and this under a scorching sun. Further, it is not uncommon for pure Arab horses to cover from 125 to 150 miles in the 24 hours, and this without food or water until the journey is finished.

State is Democratic.
Oklahoma will probably be Democratic in politics for some time to come. The governor-elect, C. M. Hall, of Muskogee, received a majority of 27,000 votes. The state will cast approximately 250,000 votes, of which number from 10,000 to 15,000 are by negro voters. The majority for prohibition was about 20,000. Of the 12 Republicans in the constitutional convention six came from each side of the new state.

Gov. Haskell is one of the newer residents of the state, having gone there from Ohio. Other officers are: Lieutenant governor, George Bellamy, of El Reno; secretary of state, "Bill" Cross, of Oklahoma City, whose friends say he would not be recognized if referred to as "William Cross"; treasurer, J. B. McNeese, of Andarkia; attorney general, Charles West, of Enid, and chairman of the commissioners of corporations, J. J. McAllister.

The state in primaries has selected to represent her in the senate the first blind man who has ever sat in that body. He is T. P. Gore, who lost his sight when a boy in Mississippi, where he was born. He has served in the territorial legislature. Robert Lee Owen, who will be elected as the other senator, is a totally different type. Born in Virginia, he is one-eighth Cherokee Indian, and is looked upon as an extreme conservative. He distinguished himself as a lawyer by earning a fee of $150,000 in a single case. Both these men have been chosen by the Democratic primaries, which is equivalent to their election by the legislature. Of the representatives H. S. McGuire, for some years territorial delegate from Oklahoma, in congress, is the only Republican of the five elected. Others are E. L. Fulton, a brother of Senator Fulton, of Oregon, Second district; James S. Davenport, Third district; Charles D. Carter, Fourth district; and Scott Fairns, Fifth district.

Metropolis of New State.
The largest city in the Oklahoma side is Oklahoma City, with a population of 30,000 and 40 miles of asphalt pavement. Muskogee, in the Indian Territory, has a population of 25,000, which represents a growth from 2,500 about 150 coal mines, employing about 10,000 operators.

The principal rivers of Oklahoma, all of which flow toward the southeast, are, naming them from north to south, Arkansas, Salt Fork, Cimarron, North Canadian, South Canadian, Washita and Red.

The government acquired what is now Oklahoma more than a century ago under the terms of the Louisiana Purchase. Early in the century the government set this land apart for the segregation of the various Indian tribes, then being driven west by the advance of white settlers. Hence, while Missouri, Kansas, Iowa, Nebraska, Colorado and other Louisiana Purchase states were being populated, Oklahoma remained for 80 years a wild Indian camping ground.

At the time of the opening of all of Oklahoma, except that portion taken from Texas in the Greer county boundary dispute and the narrow strip between Kansas and Texas, extending to the Colorado and New Mexico lines, was included in the Indian Territory. Oklahoma territory, which was held by the government for the use of the Indians, but had never been assigned to any tribe, consequently consisted in those days of only about 2,000,000 acres. There occurred the first great rush for homes, which brought into existence Oklahoma City. Transferred to time the government transferred other portions of land from the Indian Territory to Oklahoma territory for settlement by whites, until, when the Oklahoma-Indian Territory statehood bill passed, all that remained of Indian Territory were the reservations of the Choctaw, Chickasaw, Cherokee, Creek, Seminole and Quapaw tribes.

Color Line Drawn.
The supervision of instruction is vested in a board of education, of which the state superintendent of public instruction is president and at the same time secretary of state and attorney general are members ex-officio. A color line is drawn on negroes in Oklahoma, separate schools being provided for negro children, but with the same accommodations as the schools for white children. Education is compulsory.

The Chilocco Indian school is one of the most interesting educational institutions in Oklahoma. About 3,000 of its 8,900 acres are in cultivation, the rest being in meadow or pasture land. This school has 700 to 800 students, 70 instructors, more than 40 buildings, and is known as the best institution in the Indian service for imparting practical agricultural knowledge to Indians. In addition to agriculture, stock raising, dairying, etc., all other lines of industry are taught at Chilocco.

Oklahoma has more than 1,200 manufacturing plants, representing investments aggregating $25,000,000, and giving employment to 10,000 wage earners. These plants include flour mills, oil mills, cotton gins, broom factories, brick and tile works, salt works, cement factories, woodenware and carriage works.

Oil Fields Are Rich.
Some of the richest oil fields in America are in Oklahoma. The Glenn Pool oil district, south of Tulsa, between Red Fork and Mounds, has between 450 and 500 producing oil wells, with a total capacity of 100,000 barrels a day. The first of these wells was sunk in December, 1905. Pipe lines have been constructed for the transportation of this oil to the Texas seaboard and to the refineries at White, Ind. More than $10,000,000 has been invested in tanks, pumping stations and pipe lines in Tulsa county.

Eastern Oklahoma, which is not so uniformly even as the western portion of the state, produces more than 3,000,000 tons of coal a year, for which its mines receive about $6,000,000. The coal field extends from the vicinity of Tulsa on the north to the Texas line on the south, and is more than 100 miles broad. The state con-

Fine State University.
The head of the public school system of Oklahoma is the state university, located at Norman, open to female as well as male students, and comprising a college of arts and sciences, a college of medicine, a school of applied science, a school of pharmacy, a school of mines, a school of fine arts, and a preparatory school. The campus, consisting of 60 acres, lies at a slight elevation, overlooking the South Canadian river. University hall was built five years ago at a cost of $70,000. Science hall is a new building, 63 by 125 feet, of gray pressed brick. The university is also provided with a library building given by Andrew Carnegie, and a gymnasium, 55 by 100 feet. There are four other buildings, two of wood, devoted to engineering work, and two devoted to the anatomical laboratory.

The other advanced public educational institutions of Oklahoma are an agricultural and mechanical college, three state normal schools, a university preparatory school, a colored agricultural and normal university, and a school at Chilocco, on a reservation containing 8,900 acres of agricultural land, for the education of Indian boys and girls in the higher branches of learning.

FAMOUS NEW ENGLAND TREES.
Havoc Wrought by Recent Storms Among Cherished Antiquities.

None of our antiquities are more cherished by healthy natives than our ancient and historic trees, says the Boston Transcript.

When the old elm on the common blow down, about 30 years ago, there was a genuine grief among the older residents and there was a general scramble for souvenirs of this patriarch of our oldest park, even down to the smallest twig.

The charter oak at Hartford has given its name to numerous institutions, and its remains have been scattered in various forms, artistic or otherwise, through the homes of Connecticut and even other states.

The old elm in Cambridge, under which Washington received his commission from the continental congress, but now fast tottering to its fall, has been the shrine of hundreds of thousands of patriotic pilgrims. The severe storm recently was almost as fatal to two more remarkable sentinels of as many towns. The revolutionary tree at Arlington was two-thirds destroyed, and probably the remainder has sustained more injury.

But Lancaster mourns an even greater loss. Her chief native distinction is practically destroyed. Her queen elm, which has been declared the largest in Massachusetts, is a wreck. For years it has been braced with rods and bound with iron bands, the force of the incipient tornado was too strong even for them. The diameter of its spread was 35 feet and the ground circumference of its trunk nearly 37. To these two towns the storm brought general bereavement.

"Two Story" Bed Appears.
Among the new inventions for beds, where room is at a premium, are the two and three-story beds or cots of enameled iron. They certainly have the advantage of being room savers, whatever their defects from the standpoint of beauty may be. In width they are about the size of ordinary single beds. Each is furnished with a woven wire spring, mattress and pillow.

Deny State Jurisdiction.
When the state railroad commission took up the petition of Assemblyman Herman L. Eiken, of Whitehall, for an order requiring the Green Bay & Western Railway company to furnish better passenger train service, Attorney John C. Gaveny, of Arcadia, representing the company, raised the point that the commission did not have jurisdiction in the matter because the passenger train to be affected is an interstate train starting from Winona, Minn. The hearing was continued to December 19.

Confer with Paper Men.
John C. Hannahan, of New York, promoter of the projected print paper mill merger, and Henry B. Dean, of the firm of Dean & Shipley, bankers of New York city and Providence, R. I., held several conferences at Appleton with print paper manufacturers of Appleton and surrounding cities. Mr. Dean and Mr. Hannahan left Appleton for Winnetka, where several print men were met. Both men refuse absolutely to divulge the slightest information concerning the progress being made.

Will Have Spooner's Room.
Isaac Stephenson, of Marinette, will not only succeed John C. Spooner in the United States senate, but for the first five or six weeks of his term will occupy Mr. Spooner's committee room in the capitol building at Washington. It was announced that temporary office quarters had been assigned Senator Stephenson in the committee on rules. The new committees will not be announced until after the holidays and until that time Mr. Stephenson will be quartered in the room of the rules committee.

Wants Democratic Convention.
Madison Democrats are united in making a bid to have the meeting of the Democratic state convention, which is to be held in February, meet in this city. An informal application has already been made and the local Democrats expect to hold a meeting in a couple of weeks and make plans for attempting to bring the convention here. La Crosse is also bidding for the honor. At the state convention plans for the campaign will be formulated and delegates will be chosen to the national convention.

The greater number of whites purchasing and occupying land in Onondaga reservation the better it will be for the Indians and the reservation, according to C. P. Cornelius, an Indian attorney living in Green Bay. While in Appleton recently Mr. Cornelius said that at the present time Indians occupy but a tenth of the land on the reservation and that if the whites would come in and occupy half of that which was now unoccupied it would leave 30,000 acres for the Indians and at the same time greatly increase the value of the land. The idea that the whites are gaining much of a foothold in the reservation is not verified by Mr. Cornelius' figures. He says there are 65,540 acres in the reservation of which the whites own about 5,500. He said the Indians had acquired about 4,500 acres by patents, half of which had been sold. There have also been about 2,000 acres of inherited Indian land sold. Mr. Cornelius added that as soon as the land in the northern portion of the reservation was cleared it would make good farming country.

Boom La Follette at St. Paul.
A number of leading men of Wisconsin went to St. Paul, Minn., to attend the dinner given by the St. Paul Commercial club to launch the La Follette presidential boom in Minnesota. Senator Clapp, of Minnesota, was present. Among the Wisconsin men were: H. L. Eiken, manager of the campaign; Irvine L. Lorroot, of Superior; Alfred T. Rogers, of Madison; Senator W. C. Owen, of Malden Rock, and E. J. Gross, of Milwaukee.

To Take Burden from Counties.
Counties of the state which care for feeble-minded patients at the county asylums will be reimbursed by the state, and will be paid three dollars weekly for each patient. This is the gist of a letter from the state board of control to the county board at Manitowoc, and will relieve the county of a considerable expense.

State Capital Notes

Weekly Budget Gathered by Our Special Correspondent at Madison.

Madison.—State Treasurer Dahl states that he will direct the attorney general to begin action, either against the bondsmen of former State Treasurer John J. Kempf, of Milwaukee, or the bondsmen of the Lady Smith bank, for the collection of $2,131.31, which is due the state. Mr. Dahl said that in view of the fact that a jury trial at Lady Smith had held that the bank's bondsmen were not responsible, he believed that action would have to be taken against the bondsmen of Kempf. The United States Fidelity company of Baltimore acted as the bondsmen for Mr. Kempf. It guaranteed a salary of $600,000. When the Lady Smith bank failed in June, 1905, the state at that time had on deposit $8,488.70. Subsequently the state was paid over $6,000, but as there have been no recent payments of either interest or principal an investigation was started by Mr. Dahl. Prior to June, 1903, the bondsmen of the Lady Smith bank had furnished bonds of $20,000, which entitled them to a $10,000 deposit of the state's money. On June 17, 1903, another bond was presented to the board of depositors of $50,000 from this bank, which would permit a $25,000 deposit. L. M. Sturdevant, then attorney general, introduced a resolution at that time, however, limiting the amount this bank could hold of the state's money to $10,000. This point is disputed. Mr. Kempf claims no such resolution was ever introduced and former Secretary of State Houser and Mr. Sturdevant claim that it was and was passed. The records of the office of the state auditor show that the state's money was sent to the bank on June 18, 1903, which at that time gave them an aggregate amount on deposit of $20,000. Later this amount was increased to over $24,000. When the bank failed the state had on deposit $8,488.70. Mr. Kempf, in his own name, and not in that of the state, retained Attorney (now Justice) Timlin and began an action against the bondsmen of the bank for the money due the state. The jury held that as the state treasurer had exceeded his authority in permitting a larger amount to be deposited than the board of depositors allowed, the bondsmen of the bank were not responsible. Here the matter has rested. No appeal ever was taken. Mr. Dahl says this money must be returned to the state and so he says he will order the attorney general to investigate the case and begin action, which in all probability will be against the bondsmen of former Treasurer Kempf.

Van Hise's Position Indorsed.
After a very exhaustive hearing on the matter, the state civil service commission decided that the position of director of university publications or university editor is in the unclassified service and hence can be filled by appointment by President Van Hise. This ruling is in accordance with the view taken by President Van Hise of the position. Fred W. MacKenzie, who was until recently assistant secretary of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' association of Milwaukee, will be appointed to the new position. The salary is $1,500 a year.

The civil service commission decided that there was a vacancy in the clerical force in the state treasury department and approved the appointment of William Pugh of Fond du Lac to the position. So far as the commission is concerned, this disposes of the claim of Irving P. Leigh of Milwaukee to a clerkship in the treasury department and he will not be obliged to appeal to the courts to establish any rights he may have in the premises. Leigh claimed that State Treasurer Dahl dismissed him and that official claimed that Leigh resigned.

The commission took no further action on the bill of State Game Warden Stone for $300 for First Assistant Attorney General Titus for compiling the state fish and game laws. The commission considers the incident closed and if Mr. Titus receives his pay he will have to appeal to the courts.

Insurance Business Is Extensive.
State Insurance Commissioner Beedle has received from the printer the first copies of his annual report on the life, assessment life, surety, casualty, assessment, accident and fraternal insurance companies operating in Wisconsin. The report shows that there are 169 life insurance companies, associations and societies operating in the state, which have $1,625,625 policyholders and $531,131,995 of insurance in force. The total amount of Wisconsin claims paid last year was $1,299,872 and the total amount of premiums collected in this state was $15,149,161.

Deny State Jurisdiction.
When the state railroad commission took up the petition of Assemblyman Herman L. Eiken, of Whitehall, for an order requiring the Green Bay & Western Railway company to furnish better passenger train service, Attorney John C. Gaveny, of Arcadia, representing the company, raised the point that the commission did not have jurisdiction in the matter because the passenger train to be affected is an interstate train starting from Winona, Minn. The hearing was continued to December 19.

Confer with Paper Men.
John C. Hannahan, of New York, promoter of the projected print paper mill merger, and Henry B. Dean, of the firm of Dean & Shipley, bankers of New York city and Providence, R. I., held several conferences at Appleton with print paper manufacturers of Appleton and surrounding cities. Mr. Dean and Mr. Hannahan left Appleton for Winnetka, where several print men were met. Both men refuse absolutely to divulge the slightest information concerning the progress being made.

mainder of the week.

Why should officials be unmercifully criticized for attempting to punish men for direct violation of law.

William Jennings Bryan says that those who criticized his fifty cent silver dollar are now glad to get any dollar at all.

There is quite a demand for printers and pressmen along Water Street in Milwaukee. It may be possible that the name of the street has something to do with the evident scarcity of compositors along that thoroughfare.—Exchange.

Ex-Senator Hutton's letter on the first page should set men to thinking.
I have little respect for the operator who sells his finished product at the same or a higher price than before the recent money stringency and still cuts down the price of labor.

In the first issue of the New North under the present management, the editor stated that he would not support candidates whom he believed unworthy of the office. He stands on the same platform today and will not hesitate in the next primaries to advocate honest men in office.

The bunch of lads, who on all hallowe'en did material damage on the South Side, did not feel so elated when they were summoned to appear before the Judge for misconduct and then made to settle for the damages.
If more object lessons were imposed

The Stores, Banks and practically all places of business are closed to give the busy man or woman a chance to reflect and be thankful that his lot is no worse. We can all give utterance to a prayer of thanksgiving for some mercies and benefits during the past year. Thanksgiving means more than simply overloading ones stomach with a big dinner and then feeling despoiled for several days.
Let us try to commemorate in spirit as well as appetite.

Former Senator Spooner is gently worried over the assumption of power of President Roosevelt. He fears that Roosevelt is assuming an undue share of governmental power, that he is encroaching on the legislative and judicial branches of the government. He also fears that the president is encroaching on the rights of the individual states. The same Spooner says Morgan and Rockefeller did more to prevent a run in the recent financial crisis than the government. Why should Mr. Spooner not defend the interests which he has always supported, which are now employing him to defend them against the laws of the government.

At this time when so often we hear the name of President Roosevelt connected with the slump in the stock market, it seems pertinent to publish a few cold hard facts from a most severe critic of the Roosevelt administration, New York World, (Democrat.)

"It was not Theodore Roosevelt who tried to finance the United Copper pool with other people's money, but the Heinzes.

"It was not Theodore Roosevelt,
but Heinze, Moore, and Thomas, whom an honest and indignant Clearing house committee had to scourge from the banking business.

"It was not Theodore Roosevelt, but C. T. Barney, who plunged the Knickerbocker Trust Company into reckless real-estate operations.

"It was not Theodore Roosevelt,
but E. R. Thomas, whom Mr. Fleim-ing forced to return to the Provident Life Assurance Society the money of the policy-holders which had been deposited in Thomas's banks for use in wildcat speculation.

"It was not Theodore Roosevelt,
but Thomas F. Ryan and associates, who, by a combination of stock-jobbing and grand larceny, wrecked the most profitable street-railway system in the world.

"It was not Theodore Roosevelt,
but E. H. Harriman, who looted the Alton.

"It was not Theodore Roosevelt who was responsible for a system of insurance corruption whose exposure shocked the whole civilized world, but men who have never spent an hour in a cell as punishment for their offenses."

COST OF LABOR IN PAPER.

The paper manufacturers have claimed that one of the principal reasons for the advance in the price of paper is the increased cost of labor. The American Newspaper association meets this claim with the assertion that the entire cost of labor in the manufacture of a ton of paper amounts to less than $2.40. Not one twelfth of the advance in news print paper, it was stated, would go to labor.—Doylestown (Pa.) Intelligencer.

HON. JAMES WILSON ON THE INTERNATIONAL.

Honorable James Wilson, Secretary of Agriculture, in a recent interview said:

"The International Live Stock Exposition as an educational factor has carved a niche for itself.

"Producers are confronted with the problem of increased cost of every commodity that they use, greatly enhancing their expenditure.

Obviously this necessitates rigid economy, and the man who reduces cost of production to a minimum insures maximum profits and his own survival where others fail.

"The International is teaching its valuable lesson to the country at an opportune moment.

"During the period of cheap feed and feed lot extravagance such education was not valued, because its benefits were not realized at the time.

"Under new conditions, the man who produces beef, pork and mutton cannot afford the use of inferior machinery in his business.

"Economy requires that he handle the very best types of the most improved breeding; and these lessons can be obtained at the International Live Stock Exposition, which is acknowledged to be an educational institution of the highest order in its line."

LUCKY BEAN SAVED SAILOR.

Providence Placed Talisman in His Hand When He Was Thrown Unconscious Among Cannibals.

Of all the many mysterious products of the ocean, none can compare with the sea-bean. Scientists are divided as to its origin, as no one has ever seen the shrub or vine on which it grows, and it is never found save when the bosom of the deep has been rent by a hard storm, when the sea-beans, cast forth from some mysterious depth, are found scattered along the beach, dorelets of the tide. There are numerous varieties, large and small, and some are very rare, especially the large liver bean, and the banded bean. The savage tribes which inhabit the South Seas regard them as almost sacred, and look upon the lucky possessor of one of the rare varieties as particularly favored by the gods. Dusky belles, having in their possession these rare products of the deep, will fight for their treasure against all comers, as they believe that the sea-bean gives them unusual power, especially in love, and that any man on whom their affections are set, must yield to their charms if they but touch him with the lucky bean. One touch of the bean binds their lover to them forever.

Mr. Leak, manager of the Stanislaus county exhibit cars from California, is the fortunate possessor of a rare specimen which has a thrilling history which would seem to prove the superstition of the savages of the South Sea Islands. It was given to him by a sailor friend, who was wrecked in a mighty storm which swept the tropical seas. The sailor, unconscious and nearly dead, was washed ashore on an island, and when he recovered his senses he found himself surrounded by a crowd of savage men and women. They were cannibals, and his fate would undoubtedly have been a horrible one, but suddenly a native saw grasped in the sailor's hand, one of the rarest of the sea-beans. Where it came from and how it happened that he held it when he was cast upon the beach he never knew, but the superstitious natives looked upon him as one especially protected by the gods, and the bean proved to him a lucky one indeed for it undoubtedly saved him from a terrible fate. Some years ago Mr. Leak befriended this old sailor in San Francisco, and as a reward this lucky bean was presented to him, and he values it highly. "I am not superstitious," said Mr. Leak in speaking of this bean, which he has had made into a watch charm, "but I have not had any very bad luck since I was presented with the lucky bean by my old sailor friend Seth."

Wisconsin Development Association was organized. This general organization provides a means of united and systematic work. It is self evident that one can accomplish more by working together than each counts working separately. Since we all have the same story to tell our readers as to soil, climate, products, cheap fuel, markets, building material, railroad facilities and so being practically uniform, we can advertise these things more effectively and to more people by working together. Stated in a general way the North Wisconsin Development Association proposes to co-operate with the state board of immigration in any practicable method of advertising our resources, and it is highly desirable that one's country board appropriate a sum near the fall amount and use what is actually needed to carry out the plans of this work; it might not all be needed this year but it will not all be spent. If not needed and we will be in good shape to commence an aggressive campaign early next fall. If the local development association sees fit to carry on some lines of the work independent of the federation of counties it would be well to have a little money on hand for such work.

E. S. SHEPARD,
Director in the Federation.

what grip the syndicate had on the city authorities that all this was done for at the expense of the taxpayers is not revealed.

But it required some millions to take over these bonds and more millions to get hold of the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company. Where did these millions come from? I do not say. But right here two facts are parallel. The Secretary of the Treasury put some $10,000,000 into the New York banks of these banks the National City, of which James Stillman is president, is the favorite. A week later Mr. Stillman and Mr. Morgan were putting money into each covered stock and into other bonds which will yield them a big profit. Is it any wonder that the "captains of industry" become richer than Croesus?

But the game does not stop here. For years the big banking interests have wanted to control the money issues of the country. A part of this scheme is "asset currency," and another fond desire is "elastic currency." The Wall Street lobby has enabled them to swoop up both of these schemes. I am not saying that both of them are hopelessly bad. But I am saying that the country does not want to put its financial affairs entirely in the hands of the banks, so long as the banks are so much in the hands of the "captains of industry," who have been working day and night in New York—Grapho in The Advance.

It is especially good for croup and whooping cough. Rev. James A. Lewis, Pastor M. E. Church, Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is sold by Hinman & Co.

ONLY NECESSARY TO TREAT THE STOMACH

The new theory advanced by L. T. Cooper relative to the human stomach has attracted such widespread attention that the public in cities visited by the young man has been joined by many physicians in a discussion of his beliefs and medicine. Mr. Cooper says that human health is dependent almost entirely upon the stomach. He says that no disease can be conquered without first alleviating all stomach disorders. He further says that most men and women of this generation are half-sick, owing to degenerate stomachs. And lastly, he claims that his New Discovery medicine will rejuvenate the human stomach in 30 days.

Cooper has been traveling from one city to another, conducting in each what he calls a campaign of education. For the past year he has met the public in the larger cities of the country, and his success has been phenomenal. Thousands of people have flocked to his headquarters wherever he has gone, and the sale of his medicine has been beyond anything of the kind ever before witnessed.

Possibly the most interesting feature of the attention this young man has attracted is what his army of followers whom he has converted to his beliefs through his medicines, have to say on the subject. The following statements are from two well-known residents of Chicago and Boston, respectively, and the enthusiasm of these is characteristic of Cooper's admirers generally.

Mrs. H. B. Mack, of 3201 State street, Chicago, says: "I have been suffering for 12 years from a combination of stomach troubles, catarrh and constipation. I had a gnawing pain in the pit of my stomach, a sort of a dull pain that I could not quite understand. Then there was a dull headache, and my mind seemed to be wandering continually. I could not eat, and what little solid food I did eat I could not retain on my stomach. I tried every remedy I could think of, and also tried out a number of patent medicines, but without any apparent result. It was through one of my friends that I heard of Cooper's preparation, and I immediately decided to try some of it. It is two weeks since I took my first dose of it, and I feel like a new woman. The headache seems to have disappeared, and the pain in my stomach along with it. The medicine is worth its weight in gold, and I want to thank Mr. Cooper for what he has done for me."

Mr. Edwin F. Morse, of 20 Oakley street, Dorchester, a suburb of Boston, says: "For three years I had a terrible stomach trouble. My stomach was in a frightful shape; the mere thought of food would nauseate me, and I really had a horror of anything to eat. All solid food would cause me extreme indigestion, bloating and gas on my stomach, and nothing tasted right. Some time ago I got some of this Cooper's medicines, about which there is so much talk. I actually feel as well and strong as a boy ever since the first bottle. Every sign of stomach trouble has disappeared, and I have a hearty appetite and eat three square meals every thing seems to taste good. Anyone who knows what chronic indigestion is can appreciate what this means to me. I consider this the most remarkable medicine I ever heard of."

We sell Mr. Cooper's medicines, and find them to be all he claims.

FLURRY-NOT HURTING TRADE.

An interview of the large business houses of Milwaukee by an Evening Wisconsin reporter develops the fact that the financial stringency is not hurting trade.

The outlook for the coming holiday trade, as well as that for the coming new year, in almost every instance was presented with bright and hopeful statements which seemed in each instance to be backed up with the fact that the retail concerns are still buying large new stocks and have not thought of curtailing their orders for goods which they expect to want for the future.

Louis Gimbel—Our business thus far for eleven months of the year shows almost its natural increase, which we figure on each year. And this with the great bulk of the Christmas trading to come. We feel that if manufacturers will hold up their end, by keeping labor employed, that we shall be able to keep on along present lines.

Carl Hertzfeld of the Boston Store—As to the Boston Store, while we have not thus far had quite as large an increase for the year thus far, we have an increase, nevertheless, and we are satisfied with the volume of trade. We anticipate and are preparing for a very large general holiday trade. We are constantly buying large stocks; are placing additional help in the store, and are giving more room to the display of goods than ever before. We have added our large addition in the rear, which is filled with goods, and have made special preparations for taking care of an expected increase in trade in the enlarged departments. Our space for displays has been materially increased to meet requirements. We must have, and do have, every faith in the future, and we are backing this up by constantly increasing our stock.

The Eschenbach Drygoods Company—"We are doing a largely increased business in every one of our departments this year, over the business done last year, and we are making preparations for a very large holiday trade."

The Gerretson Co.—"Notice the interior of the store this morning?" asked W. F. Gerretson. "The crowds indicate that business has not fallen off, but is increasing instead."

Charles J. Stumpf of Stumpf & Langhoff—If I were to be put on the witness stand and sworn, my statement would be this: "As far as Stumpf & Langhoff are concerned we are ahead of anything in our business done in the past. October and thus far in November we have beaten our record for the same period last year, and October and November in 1900 were the largest months we ever had up to the present year."

LINGERING COLD

Withstood Other Treatment But Quickly Cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.
"Last winter I caught a very severe cold which lingered for weeks," says J. Urquhart, of Zephyr, Ontario. "My cough was very dry and harsh. The local dealer recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and guaranteed it, so I gave it a trial. One small bottle of it cured me. I believe Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to be the best I have ever used." This remedy is sold by Hinman & Co.

CITIZENS COURSE ENTERTAINMENT NO. 2.

The second number of the Citizens Entertainment Course will be given on Wednesday Dec. 11th, at the Opera House.

The Eva Bartlett Macey Co., is among the first of lyric attractions in artistic and popular excellence. Miss Macey as a reader, pianist and versatile entertainer is without a peer. Highly gifted as a pianist and interpreter she uses her great art for the entertainment and elevation of the people. Miss Macey has filled hundreds of engagements during the past three seasons and has been received with unusual favor. H. J. Williams has starred for three seasons with Innes, the great band master, who induced him to come to this country, and two seasons for us. Mr. Williams is regarded the greatest Welsh-American harpist. He has won nine medals in harp contests. Mrs. Williams possesses a pleasing personality and sings with artistic effect. Mr. Jay Plowe as a flute soloist has no superior in this country. After years of study in his own land he perfected his work by five years under the great masters of Europe. While abroad he filled positions as solo flutist with the Berlin orchestra and others, and met with the most flattering reception everywhere.

A Hard Debt to Pay.

"I owe a debt of gratitude that can never be paid off," writes G. S. Clark, of Westfield, Iowa, "for my rescue from death, by Dr. King's New Discovery. Both lungs were so seriously affected that death seemed imminent, when I commenced taking New Discovery. The ominous dry, hacking cough quit before the first bottle was used, and two more bottles made a complete cure." Nothing has ever equaled New Discovery for coughs, colds and all throat and lung complaints. Guaranteed by J. J. Reardon, druggist, 60c. and $1.00. Trial bottle free.
